Who We Are

Seven Teas was founded in Santa Monica, CA in 2016 by two brothers, Jeremy and Josh whom shared the love of adventure and tea. They believe in the reverence for deep cultural roots of tea and appreciation for each tea's distinctive origin.

The brothers (aka "The Brew Bros"), travelled the world from the street markets of Marrakech to the Rainforests of Ecuador. They hold a deep appreciation and respect for the cultural traditions surrounding tea: the land, customs, and history. Each tea brings the unique benefits, flavors, colors and aromas of its place of origin— they strongly believe in celebrating global ancient traditions and honoring Mother Earth's natural ingredients.

Through their travels, they learned to ethically source our certified organic, Fair Trade whole leaf teas to craft each tea using ancient brewing methods using only mineral spring water. Their mission is to bring customers closer to farms, farms closer to brewers and brewers closer to fans and back again.

Now close your eyes and set sail on a taste adventure into Seven's unique cultural traditions. Seven Teas hopes you'll find their teas as delightfully nuanced and fascinatingly complex as the regions and cultures from which they were born.

Sit back, take a sip & always love!
